 - II. Claims 90-108, drawn to a method for facilitating the entry of an order, classified in class 705, subclass 37.
4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II have separate utility such as: the invention I drawn to a method and device for processing and displaying market data the market data includes a highest bid price and a lowest ask price are dynamically displaying, in contrast, the invention II drawn to a method for facilitating the entry of an order in which a quantity is automatically calculated based in part on a formula and a current position for a first commodity. Therefore, the invention I and II are shown to be separately usable.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
